FUN HALLOWEEN FACTS

 A full moon on Halloween is extremely rare. Halloween photos usually depict a full moon that is beaming, but a full moon occurring on Halloween only occurs three or four times every century. On average, the moon is full every 19 years on Halloween, with the last occurrence in 2020!

 Right behind Christmas, Halloween is the second most commercial holiday in the US: Americans spend about $6.9 billion on Halloween – most of it for candy, costumes and parties. A surprisingly big chunk is also invested in Halloween costumes for pets.

 Keep an eye on your sweets! Did you know that over 90% of parents steal their children’s Halloween sweets!

 Tootsie Rolls served an unexpected purpose for soldiers in the Korean War. Due to a communication error, Tootsie Rolls were accidentally air-dropped to American troops in battle in the Korean War. The troops went on to praise the candies for keeping them nourished and even plugging bullet holes in vehicles and equipment, which would seal as the candies froze in the frigid temperatures.

 It wasn't until the 1970s that candy was exclusively doled out to trick or treaters. According to History.com, trick or treating became popular in America in the 1930s, when it was acceptable to hand out everything from homemade cookies, to nuts, toys, and coins. Candy companies started marketing pre-packaged Halloween offerings in the 1950s, and 20 years later, it became the primary treat given out to children.
