SUMMER SOLSTICE
FACTS

1. The Latin words 'Sol' and 'Stice' literally mean 'sun' and 'to stand still.'
2. The Summer Solstice equates to the longest day and shortest night of the year. There will usually be around 14 hours of sunlight on this day.
3. Summer Solstice is a pagan festival called Litha a day of celebration. Many pagans gather at Stonehenge to give thanks to the sun.
4. At Stonehenge, the Heel Stone and Slaughter Stone align with the rising sun.
5. The ancient Celts celebrated the day with dancing, feasts, parties and bonfires to increase the sun's energy for good harvests and prosperity.
6. While the Northern Hemisphere will be celebrating Summer Solstice the Southern Hemisphere they will be celebrating the Winter Solstice.
7. If you jump over a solstice fire, luck will come your way for the rest of the year.
8. Summer Solstice is the height of summer and longest day, but after this day the days will become shorter and nights longer.
9. When Christians were converting pagans, they changed the name of the day to “The feast of St John the Baptist”.
10. Over 70 countries around the world celebrate Summer Solstice, from Europe to Africa to Australia to the United States to Asia.
