The Spring Garden Band of York, believed to be the fourth oldest continuously active band in the United States, came into existence long before the Civil War. By virtue of its extremely well-orchestrated numbers, balanced organization, and high level of musicianship, the Spring Garden Band has become recognized as one of the best in the state. Past performances have included presidential and governor inaugurations, state fairs across the United States, and a recording contract with RCA.

Life Long Learning: Tom Davidson “The Haines Shoe House”

Friday, August 29

2:00 pm

Fellowship Room

The Haines Shoe House in Hellam Township, York County, PA is an excellent example of programmatic architecture. In the twentieth century, buildings were constructed to advertise products and grab the attention of motorists as they traveled along the highway. Discover the history of one of York’s most famous roadside attractions presented by Tom Davidson.
