Important Information

YSO “Beethoven’s Sixth Symphony” October 6

4:00 pm

Fellowship Room

We begin transporting you to the natural world through the magic of music with Strauss’ famous Tales from the Vienna Woods — waltzes through the countryside with poetic justice. Followed by York Symphony’s oboe Jill Haley’s work, National Parks Suite No. 2, which embodies America’s beloved landscapes. We finish the evening with Beethoven’s Sixth “Pastorale” Symphony which expresses a range of emotions while in nature – the pure joy of rambling in the woods to crashing sounds of a looming thunderstorm. Join for an evening of music, drinks, and light fare with your neighbors.

Bring your hearing aid in for a deep cleaning and check by a qualified representative from Beltone Hearing Aid Center of York. Beltone is also able to answer questions about assistive hearing devices for your phone and TV. Sign up at the front desk for an appointment.

Life Long Learning "Rainbow Rose Center"

Friday, October 10

2:00 pm

Fellowship Room

"The Rainbow Rose Center fosters an environment of inclusion, equity, and health where all LGBTQIA+ community members can thrive in York County, Pennsylvania. We envision an inclusive community where all York County individuals feel safe and welcome in their everyday lives". If you have friends or family who identify as LGBTQIA+, or if you are simply interested in learning more and being a supportive ally, we welcome you to join. Come with your questions and an open mind—let's grow together in understanding and support. Join presenter Christina Wingert for this important discussion.
