Special Events in May

5/7 1:00pm Officer Michael Reinert from our local police department is coming to give a presentation on his experience in the department and to educate us on the duties of his partner, Victory. Victory is part of the K-9 Unit in the York County Police Department.

5/14 2:00pm Our world offers a veritable cornucopia in unique sayings passed down through generations across all continents. From many cultures and languages there are insightful lessons and perspectives on life in the form of proverbs, adages, and sayings: A bird in the hand is worth two on the roof...You can't judge a horse by its saddle...Don't make an elephant out of a mosquito...Two shorten the road...Fall seven times, get up eight...Empty barrels rumble the most...Live a century, learn a century...No decision is also a decision. Explore sayings in different languages, this one-session presentation will open up unique insight about life from diverse cultures around the world.

5/22 3:00pm Join Jay Stevens as we experience the North Atlantic with visits to the Netherlands, Norway, Iceland, Canada, and Maine. You need not dress warmly for this trip!

5/23 2:00pm Honeybee Basics: This presentation will introduce the residents to the behaviors and biology of the honeybee, how honeybees co-exist with other pollinators, and how beekeepers approach the management of their colonies through the seasons. Presenter: Kay McAdams
