"The Lord is close to the brokenhearted and saves those who are crushed in spirit."

-Psalm 34:18

September 11, 2001, is a day etched into the soul of our nation and our hearts. It was a day of deep sorrow, overwhelming fear, and unimaginable loss. Nearly 3,000 lives were taken in a single morning—parents, children, first responders, neighbors—each with a story, each deeply loved.

We remember the ash-filled skies, the stunned silence, and the heart-breaking images that played across our screens. But amid the smoke and rubble, we also saw something else: firefighters running toward danger, strangers helping strangers, people praying in the streets, and communities coming together in unity and compassion.

Where was God on 9/11? He was there—in the stairwells, in the hands of the helpers, in the cries of the grieving, in the hearts of those who would not give up hope. Psalm 34:18 reminds us that God is close to the brokenhearted. He is not distant or indifferent. He enters into our pain, sits with us in our sorrow, and gives us strength when we have none left.

Even now, decades later, the wounds for many are still fresh. Some lost loved ones. Others lost a sense of security. But God offers healing that time alone cannot give. His presence brings peace that surpasses understanding. And even when justice feels incomplete and questions linger, His love remains constant, His promises unshaken.

Let this day not only be a time of mourning, but also a time of rededication—to live lives that reflect the love and courage we saw on that day. Let it drive us to be people of peace, hope, and reconciliation in a world that still knows pain and division.

Do you remember,

Where you were when the world stopped turning on that September day?

Skilled Care Newsletter

Dear Lord, on this solemn day, we remember the lives lost and the families forever changed. We ask for Your comfort for those who still grieve. We thank You for the heroes who laid down their lives to save others. In the face of evil, may we cling to Your goodness. Help us to be agents of Your peace in a broken world. Be near to every broken heart today. In Jesus' name, amen.

Take a moment to do one act of kindness this month in memory of those who lost their lives. Reach out to someone in love. Let your life be a reflection of the hope and compassion that never died, even on the darkest day.
